THE PO LEUNG KUK.

THE committee of the Po Leung Kuk, through their organ the China Mall, have announced their resignation. Why? No reason-is stated; it is not a regular "retirement by rotation, offering themselves for re-election, under the rules;" it is not an adverse vote at a general election. or a hostile division in course of debate; It is not, presumably, a. voluntary confession of incapacity or anything worse; it is not safe to guess that they " retire by request," decorated with the Noble Order of the Kick-then what is it?

It is all on account of that nasty Commission. We can see it all plainly now, though until quite lately we had only, an imperfect knowledge of the undercurrents and the unseen creepy-crawly influences at work in the deep, dark, mysterious haunts of the Po Leung Kuk. We had no information on the aubject from the fountain-head; we cannot afford to keep a Registrar-General on our staff writing gorgeous advertisements about himself, headed "This Way to Me," of the Po Leung Kuk committee, The Toysku-mura branch of the Japan Marine, nor obsequiously go out of our way. Products Society caught a whale of several little while to curry favour with length, a short time age, off Oahlma Island, the Protector of (2002) Chinese. For the Protector of (2002) Chinese the Prot We do not assiduously scratch the backs the Provictor of Carry we were not so harhour it was, in every sense of the word, a no objections, your man, more for the well first in which he man har the man har the self-first in the man har the self-first in the self-first benevolent society as was our contemporary; but all the same, we were able even then to utter a prediction, which was, quite wrong in a matter of detail, but quite triumphantly right in actual fact, ! the resignation of the Po Leung Kuk Committee means all that appears on the them.

face of it. of Speaking with such limited sources of information, we have to infer a great deal; and those who are in a position to know all the facts may judge whether our inferences are of any value. First, from the Registrar-General's notice in the China Mail (exclusive information, paid for no doubt at the usual rate) we infer that the Po Leung Kuk Committee is very grievously dissatisfied about something. They are resigning a position which gives to its holders an immense influence. of a sort which only Chinese know how to use best-or worst. What, then, is their grievance? Careful examination leaves us able only to advance two theoriesthat they shrink from their danger, resent and fear investigation by the Commission's or that they object to what Mr. Wooz. House has laid down as law. As to the first theory, it may be safely presumed that the Commission has been inquiring pretty closely into the working of the Society, and has probably even had members of the Committee before it; and if that is so, their resignation would naturally follow: for they could never face the light of day. S. S. Co., that the steamship Belgic, with mails. They have gone far beyond their nominal purposes, they have very shamefully abused the powers which have been illegally allowed them and which is now sought to legally confirm; they have in many cases, for a long time, disregarded the purely benevolent and voluntary nature of their organisation. We give no names nor dates, as we have no Registrar-General at our elbow; but the members of the Commission must by this time know that the indictment is in a fair way of being proved; Mr. Wodehouse has declared that it is proved, out of the mouths of the Po Leung Kuk officers themselves. None can dispute his verdict; TONIC WATER none can show any authority by which the Po Leung Kuk may justify the thousands of imprisonments it has made; none can show any precedent for their not taking a person, arrested on suspicion, immediately to the police; none can produce a tittle of law or common sense in support the Registrar-General's assumption of magisterial authority. If Mr. STEWART-LOCKHART was a magistrate, he would have to make himself accessible at any time, Sunday, holiday, midnight or early morning. Yet he has arrogated to himself all the powers conferred by a criminal code, with a horde of nondescript runners of doubtful (and in some cases proven Currant, Pine Apolt, Orleans Plum, Morella | bad) character as his police force, with the cells of the Tung Wah hospital as his FRUIT SYRUPS :- Lemon, Lime Juice, I gaol, with the Inquisition conducted by the Committee as his Star Chamber-why Prepared from genuine fruit juices imported not as his torture-chamber too? Who is to know how far he has gone in this course of self-constituted secre despotism? Who is to know how many thousands have been imprisoned by him? who is to know for how long men may be kept in this "benevolent" Society's gaol? What record is there of the captives, their terms of confinement, the arbitrary conditions on which they have been released? Mr. Wodehouse proved Po Leung Kuk officer a deliberate liar and perjurer, on his own statement; is it unfair to think the man was capable of other offences-of abuse of power, of extortion, the Superintendent of the French Police Force, of anything under the sun? He may be innocent onough; the whole body Po Leung Kuk officers may be honorable and upright men, and their paths clean and straight; Mr. STEWART LOCKHART may be sufficiently clever to have pursued with-

ANOTHER old mining identity has just passed over the bridge that spans the river of uncertainty. There must be a few left here yet (says the Northern Territory Times) who remember Dugald McLean as one of our mine workers of IS of 16 years ago As a fossicker the luck of the har'y old Scot was never too attractive, but be plod ed along from year to year, never too flush and often in extreme straits. Bridge Creek and the Howley were his fancy spots, bu they never repaid him for the great confidence he reposed in them. Dugald of late years acted as guide, philosopher, and friend to Chinese mine owners, and if we are not mistaken he was instrumental in securing for a Chinese party the gold claim known as the Cosmopolitan, at the Howley, from which some marvellous vield have recently been secured. "It was at this place that he died peacefully at the beginning of the week in the presence of several old friends.

WITH reference to the judicial scandal a Trinidad, says Truth, I have been asked the very important question: What remedy is open to all those who have suffered during the last five years from the aberrations of Justice Cool and his colleagues? This is truly a serious question. As one gentleman puts it to me, large numbers of citizens have suffered unjust Imprisonment, large numbers—smong them widows. orphans, and representatives of all classes of the community-have been wrongfully deprived of their rights and property by the acts of a drunken Judge. To sue the Judges at whose hands they have suffered is for many of them an impossibility, even if these individuals were worth powder and shot. It is beyond my power to offer any solution of this question; but clearly, if justice were done, the greater number of these sufferers would be indemnified by Lord Knutsford, who persisted in keeping Mr. Cook on the Bench long after his attention had been called to the scandal.

HERE is an interesting commentary on payment of members of Parliament, from the Northern Territory Times: - The proposal to reduce Ministers' salaries from £1,000 per annum to £500 per annum is a capital idea. In the general run of South Australian politica office seeking has commanded a very large proportion. of the time occupied. Scarcely has one Cabinet get well on its feet when the Opposition up-ends It, and proceeds to draw on the salary fund, It yet?" £1000 per annum is worth fighting for, even if the colony goes to the dogs while the bittle rages. No Ministry, however capable, seems to be able to retain the confidence of the House for a protracted term, and It is not supposing too much to say that many a member's opposition is rendered resolute by the thought of the "fat" surroundings of Ministerial office. South Australia's record is certainly a high one in the way of lightning-change politics, for in at years she has witnessed 40 changes of Ministries ! Perhaps if the proposed reduction is agreed to members will be less disposed to cast their eyes on the annual salary and more facilited to be content with the modest allowance of £200 per annum. We are mone too sanguine about the success of Mr. Burgoyne's motion. Our Government is not notorious for commencing the work of pluning at the top of the tree, but exhibits on the other hand a preference for little boys who receive a pound or gos, per week, whom they stack with really dangerous recklessness. reference to the present Ministry our telegrams inform us that the projected vote of no-confidence has been abandoned, and the motion for a dissolution held over. Perhaps after all the Opposition wrath has cooled to the extent that would imply a desire to tolerate the existing state of things until Parliament dissolves by the natural order of things for a general election.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.) Amoy, August 4th.

Our foreign community, I am sorry to say, has lost another member by grim death, the late Mr. J. C. Hansen, Secretary to the I. G. Consulate having departed this life on the 291 July, at the early age of twenty-eight years. He was only married last year, I believe, and besides a young widow, who is well known in Shanghal, he leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his loss. The German corvette Alexandrine, Captain von Frantzius, arrived here yesterday from Swatow, after a prolonged stay at Hongkong, where she had been docked and had undergone some necessary repairs; the only other minn-of-war in port, besides the Alexandrine, is the Chinese gun-boat Hock-po, which arrived here on the 24th June, being a kind of stationary guard-ship here. I hear that times are very depressed in your Yangiza metropolis, and thought that perhaps one or the other of the model settlement citizens might be glad of taking a new departure in life, by entering the Consular service of a foreign treaty Power. You and your readers will readily understand what I am alluding to, by glancing at the following advertisement, which I have clipped from our daily Amoy Astonisher: -

' Some come from Keban, where the Compagnic Charformer followers of Lul-ky. Others, again, come from Kwang-sl, intending, it is said, to enter Tonkin under the banner of a brigand named Wong-kao-nam, with rendezveus at Tam-ha.

There is, it appears, a feeling of uneasiness their sphere of operations being more and more confined. General Fong seems completely indifferent to the affairs of Tonkin, and is now at his estates at Yam-chau! (Thought he was dead a year ago.—Ed., H. K. Telegraph.)

It was thought that these Chinese would take to honest work. but these robbers need careful watching. It is stated at Pakhol that numbers of them have arrived there from Kebau, and are planning an expedition (ciratical, of course) in Tonkin. Those who remain at Kebau are beyond doubt disaffected, and the Europeans at the mines will one of these days know all about it (says the Avenir) in spite of all the most peaceful assurances.

It was reported recently that an insurrection had broken out in Yunnan. It is now known that the troubled region is Pou-eurl-phu. The disturbance was caused by the advances of the English from the south-west. The movement is directed by the mandarins, relatives of those decapitated by order of the Court at Pekin on the complaint of the British Government after the murder of an English explorer named Margary twelve years ago. The Chinese have not forgotten their grievance, and now they have an opportunity to retaliate.

On the other hand it is stated that M. Garanger. who had intended establishing a factory of the Laos Syndicate at Xieng-hong, on the Mckong, has altered his programme and is staying at Muong-hou, on the Nam-hou, as he could not reach his destination until after the rainy season, which began over a month ago.

On this account they have now at Luang Phrabang two agents, Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Smith. (Apparently, then, Luang Phrabang is the place in the whole world where there is not a Scotchman.—Ed.,

We have (says the Avenir) great interest in the West. Only those who have travelled the country know the hidden wealth of the upper Black River valley. We must not let the English come too near.

News via Cao-bang and Long-tcheou corroborate the reports that the robels in Yunnan are gathering on the Tonkin frontier and are only waiting for the completion of their armament by the mandarins to overrun the country.

Our old Chefoo Taotal, Sheng, is making active preparations to leave us for Tientsin, to take up his new position as Customs Taotal, not a despicable billet; he is to leave us on the next trip of the Haean, expected from your port, in a few days. The members of the Savage Club gave a very civilised entertainment, not long ago, in connection with a "hop," I believe, which I hear spoken of as a great success. Your correspondent was not present, so I am prevented, unfortunately, from giving you a detailed account: I understand their premises are in excellent trim now, and great expectations are raised in connection with their ability of contributing largely towards the amusement of the community in future. There have been some fine showers of rain, since wrote last, and I trust that the farmers may have occasion to be satisfied with the prospects, of their crops; at least no rumours to the contrary have reached me so far. It seems that quite a new trade in Chihli coal is springing up in the place; I don't refer to the Kalping black diamonds, which are of a bituminous nature, but a kind of splendid anthracite, which is brought here in junks from the Gulf of Liaotung; I hear it also finds a ready sale even in Tientsin, despite the rivalry of Kaiping, which is pouring its produce into the market by railway. The cost junks come with their cargoes somewhere from The afforts to extend French influence west- | the vicinity of Shanhai-kwan, and I understand steamship Kwelyang, which left Chefoo yesterday for your port, took away no less than fifteen hundred tons of this new coal for Shanghal I am told: China seems truly to be somewhat awakening, and if they proceed with coal-mining in Chihll, as at present, the time will not be far distant, when the death-knell of the Japan coal trade will be sounded, as far as import into Chinese ports is concerned, especially if it is also borne in mind, that our own province, Shantung, is full of excellent coal beds, the contents of which are only awaiting the arrival of the genius, who will throw them upon the market, with his magician's wand .- Mercury,
